Always there for our Partners

Claims & Returns

At Skatinger, we are committed to providing our wholesale partners with reliable products, secure packaging and fast after-sales support. Every shipment is carefully inspected and properly packed before dispatch to minimise the risk of damage during transport.

Products that are visibly damaged upon delivery are eligible for immediate replacement once the damage has been documented and reported to our team. We recommend inspecting the shipment at the time of receipt, taking clear photographs of the damaged product and packaging, and recording any visible damage on the carrier's delivery document.

Responsibility for transport-related damage depends on the agreed shipping terms and on which party arranged and assumed the cost and responsibility for transportation. Where Skatinger is responsible for the shipment, we will manage the claim directly with the delivery or freight company. Where transport was arranged by the customer, we will provide all available documentation and support required for the customer to submit the claim to the relevant carrier.

Our products are packed according to established handling and transport standards, so damage should not normally occur under proper shipping conditions. However, when an issue is clearly related to manufacturing, quality control or packaging, our team reacts without delay. After reviewing the submitted information, we will arrange the most appropriate solution, including replacement products, spare parts, repair support or another mutually agreed resolution.

Our priority is to resolve every justified claim quickly, transparently and with minimal disruption to our wholesale partners and their customers.

Spare Parts & Support

Skatinger provides dependable product support throughout the entire product lifecycle. Our wholesale partners can rely on access to spare parts, replacement components and practical assistance whenever maintenance, repairs or product upgrades are required.

Our team is also available to provide guidance on product selection, usage, care, technical specifications and quality-related questions. Whether you need help identifying the correct spare part, understanding a product feature or finding the most suitable solution for your customer, we respond quickly and with a practical approach.

Our goal is to help every Skatinger product remain safe, functional and reliable for as long as possible, while giving our partners the confidence that professional support is always available when needed.

Marketing & Sales Support

Skatinger is always available to support its partners with practical marketing, branding and sales solutions. Our creative teams can prepare professional materials for posters, banners, promotional displays, window graphics and other in-store communication, helping partners present the brand consistently and attractively.

We can also assist with the complete setup of online stores, including storefront preparation, product uploads, descriptions, images and catalogue organisation. This allows our partners to launch faster and present the Skatinger range in a clear, professional and customer-friendly way.

In addition, we provide support with digital marketing activities, including social media content, online advertising, promotional campaigns and other tools designed to increase visibility and support sales. Our goal is to give every partner the resources, materials and guidance needed to successfully grow the Skatinger brand in their market.
